COAL STRIKE SETTLEMENT CONFIDENTLY LOOKED FOR AT INDIANAPOLIS MEETING

MINERS OFFICIALS AGREE TO URGE ACCEPTANCE OF GOVERNMENT OFFER

AGREEMENT REACHED AT WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE BETWEEN OFFICIALS AND GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES

TERMS AGREED UPON ARE SECRET

By RALPH S. COUCH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—The coal shortage will continue acute until January 1, even if the miners' union wage scale officials at Indianapolis vote to accept the settlement proposed by President Wilson, it was predicted here today.

Railroad Administration officials in charge of the coal priority will make their plans on the basis of this decision. The curtailment of train service will be continued several weeks and it is expected to make further decreases. This would add to the coal hauling facilities. Meanwhile many factories must remain closed until the bins can be replenished. Part time in stores and factories in many cities will be continued until after the beginning of the year.

Although no official explanations were given out on the details of President Wilson's proposal, which has been accepted by President Lewis, the plan it is said makes no increase in the 14 per cent settlement proposed by Fuel Administrator Garfield. The importance of the plan it is assumed lies in the suggestion for a commission to study the situation. The miners then would be assured of wage readjustment under the economic situation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7—Attorney General Palmer announced after midnight that an agreement was reached here today between government officials and John L. Lewis, acting president and William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, under which a compromise proposal for termination of the soft coal strike will be submitted to a meeting of the executive committee of the mine workers at Indianapolis next Tuesday.

The compromise, which is one described in the statement, was proposed by President Wison, "looking to a speedy termination of the strike situation and adjustment of the entire controversy," the statement says. Lewis and Green will urge acceptance of the proposal.

Compromise Move Submitted

Mr Palmers statement follows:

"A conference was held at the Department of Justice in Washington, on Saturday, at which were present the Attorney General. Mr Tumulty secretary to the President. Joim L. Lewis, acting president and William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, with a view to reaching an understanding between the government and the miners which would result in a settlement of the coal strike situation.

"At this conference there was submitted a definite concrete proposition from the President looking to a speedy termination of the strike situation and an adjustment of the entire controversy. The officers of the United Mine Workers in response to the suggestion of the President, agreed to and have called, a meeting of the general scale committee, the representatives of all the district organizations and the international executive board of the United Mine Workers, to be held in Indianapolis, on Tuesday, December 9, at 1 o'clock p. m., at which time the President's proposal will be considered and its acceptance by the miners urged by Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green. The Attorney General will be in Indianapolis on Tuesday.

The announcement came as a complete surprise, as government officials had not made known the fact that the union leaders had been called into conference or that new proposals were under consideration. The presence of Lewis and Green in the city was rumored during the day, but could not be confirmed.

The fact that Mr. Palmer talked with President Wilson in the course of the day on the coal situation was known, but no intimation of the nature of the conference was obtainable either from Mr. Palmer, prior to his announcement, or at the White House.

Conditions Kept Secret

When the announcement was made officials would not comment as to the nature of the proposals to be submitted at Indianapolis. The text of the statement as well as the general attitude of government officials indicated clearly, however, that acceptance of the miners was anticipated.

STONE RUN CLUB GETS CAMP LIMIT FOR SEASON EARLY

The Stone Run Hunting club, which is made up of a bunch of local Nimrods, succeeded in getting their seasons limit of six deer shortly after dinner on Friday last and were forced to break camp for the year. The boys arived home with their kill and camp outfit Saturday evening, coming in via the Whitmer-Steel log train.

The party had six very fine bucks and when placed on exhibition in front of The Progress office, attracted hundreds of sightseers during the evening.

The Stone Run Hunting club is composed of Dr. F. D. Leipold, D. L. Mohney, Lloyd Wrigley, Fred Burchfield, Paul R. Mahaffey, Oscar W. Schaeffer, Ernest W. Brooks, Ashley Shaw, Voyle Shaw, Clifford Shaw, Frank Carns, W. P. Carns, F. Mignot Harry Davis, Lewis Davis, William Farrell, William Thorn, H. D. Healey, G. A. Stewart and J. D. Connelly.

The deer slayers were Dr. Leipolo, Fred Burchfield, W. P. Carns, Voyle Shaw, Harry Davis and Ferd A. Mignot.

This club recently purchased 2200 acres of land from the Whitmer-Steele Company located on the headwaters of Stone and Lick Runs and all of these deer were killed on this tract and within a radius of a mile and a half of the camp.

The Panther Rocks camp, another aggregation of Clearfield hunters, located on State land near the Panther Rocks and on the head of Lick Run, also succeeded in bagging the season's limit, downing their sixth buck on Friday afternoon.

Councilman R. H. Lucas, who was hunting on Birch Run downed a fine four-pronged buck on Friday.

George M. Dimeling while hunting in Elk county as the guest of Ridgway friends succeeded in killing a fine four-point buck.

The Jury Mill or "Sawdust pile" camp had five bucks up to Saturday morning and were on the trail of No. 6, which had been severely wounded, when several of the boys started for home and it is expected that they anded the limit on Saturday.

Several dead does have been found in the Penfield road country thus far this season denoting that the reckless hunter who shoots first and then looks for horns is still abroad in the land.

In our story of the Bee Hollow Hunting camp on Saturday we failed to mention the name of A. Lea Hess, as one of the party. Lea was also one of the lucky hunters as he succeeded in downing one of the six bucks killed by his party.

COURT NOTES

Judge Sloane of Clarion courts, will assist Judge Bell in civil court next Monday.

Criminal court opened this morning with the slimmest attendance in the recent history of the county's criminal court.

The following divorce applications were filed durinv the past week:

Elizabeth Carson asks a divorce from Carson, to whom she was married July 4, 912, and who deserted her May 11, 1916. A. R. Chase, Esq., filed the papers in the case.

Edna T. Watson by her attorney John C. Arnold, asks for a divorce from George F. Watson. The Watsons were married October 23, 1915, and decided to quit October 16, 1919, desertion of the husband being charged.

John C. Arnold, Esq., began proceedings on behalf of Mrs. Stella F. Reid, who seeks to have her marriage with David Reid annulled. Her statement recites the fact that she married the defendant August 20, 1917, at Curwensville, and while she was unaware of the fact at the time she alleges Reid already had a wife, whom he married in Fife, Scotland, on June 7, 1912, and had neglected to secure a divorce from.

Her last words to him were "carry on for Mexican liberty." She leaves three sons and a daughter.

FALL RESOLUTION SMOTHERED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—President Wilson today declared he would be "gravely concerned to see any resolution like Senator Fall's providing for severance of relations with Mexico be accepted by Congress. Immediately following receipt by Senator Fall of President Wilson's communication Senator Lodge said Fall's resolution was dead and that the foreign relations committee would not take it up again. The communication submitted was in the form of a personal letter to Senator Fall.

WANTS AMERICAN FORCES WITH ALLIES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—A joint resolution authorizing the President of the United States, if necessary, to use the armed military, naval and air forces in co-operation with the Allies to enforce observance of the peace terms by Germany was offered in the Senate today by Senator King, of Utah. Your Community It's A Great Place

There is no place on earth that we know of, where the churches and all public institutions are so well taken care of as in Clearfield, and all things considered. Practically all of them are free from debt. With expansion of population, we have been able to keep up our requirements in the way of hospitals and other public institutions. There is always a good citizen just around the corner to step into the breach and help out. This town is just full of good citizens. We know it. We have seen them and their acts. That is why we believe that in the very near future we are going to get a real Soldiers' Memorial for Clearfield people are appreciative. Why? Because it's a great place to live.

SECRETARY GORDON'S INTERPRETATION OF STATE GAME LAWS

The Curwensville hunters at Camp Kelley are a lucky bunch of hunters, and are likely to be the only crew of Pennsylvania hunters to secure seven deer legally.

In company with County Commissioner's Clerk, L. C. Norris, a Progress representative called acting Secretary Gordon, of the State Game Commission on the long distance telephone and asked for an interpretation of several disputed points in the game laws.

The first question asked Secretary Gordon, was concerning the status of the Kelley Camp boys, and he stated these hunters were not liable for a fically provides for a case of this limit of six allowed a single camp, inasmuch as the seventh deer was slain by one of the party who had no knowledge of the sixth one having been secured. The game law specially provides for a case of this kind, kind.

The other question was concerning the members of a party or camp at which the legal limit of six had been secured. The Secretary states that when a member of a party or camp had participated in the hunting during which the season's limit had been secured by the party, he had exhausted his hunting privilege and was therefore not allowed to go to some other camp to hunt for the remainder of the season, even though he had not actually killed a deer himself. Any member of a hunting camp who had not participated in the hunt which resulted in securing the camp limit, was entitled to go to any other camp, however, and had a perfect right to attempt to get the deer allowed each hunter under the law.

To this union was born one son, Jack Willis, who is now aged 4 years. She was a devoted member of the U. B. church, and possessed a wide circle of admiring friends.

CURWENSVILLE HAS MYSTERY MURDER CASE

Employe of Crescent Brick Plant shot To Death On Street During Saturday Night

NO CLUE TO LEET BY SLAYER

Temistocle Cavaterra, aged 25 years, one of the best known of the Italian residents of Curwensville, was foully murdered on Saturday night, about 10:15 o'clock, being shot through the head. The body was not found until Sunday morning, the discovery being made by John Nepp and Keenan Johnson, who immediately notified the authorities. The murder took place in an alley between the main street and the road leading into the town from Bridgeport.

The Curwensville authorities immediately notified Coroner J. I. Pollum, and District Attorney Arnold. Dr. Pollum left DuBois at once, while Mr. Arnold, accompanied by Sheriff Gorman, Deputy Sheriff Gilliland and Sam Toney, an Italian interpreter, left from Clearfield. Following the arrival of the coroner an investigation was started and a jury impanelled. The jury, after going over all of the evidence available, brought in a verdict that Cavaterra had come to his death as a result of a gunshot wound in the head, inflicted by a gun in the hands of a party or parties unknown to them. The clues in the case are very meagre, and the authorities have little upon which to work. It is quite evident that Cavaterra had no show for his life. Two shots were fired, one grazing the shoulder and was fired at such close range that the flash ignited the clothing. Cavaterra evidently turned after the first shot and the second one struck him in the temple, going clear through the head. He died immediately.

An investigation disclosed the fact that Cavaterra and a companion at the Italian boarding house had left on Saturday morning at 6 A. M. to go to the home of another Italian to help him butcher. After spending the day at the home of the man who was butchering, the two returned to the home of the companion who had left with Cavaterra, getting there about 10:30 o'clock. According to his story, this companion gave Cavaterra a coupie of cigars and started the Victrola. In a few minutes, he said, Cavaterra said he guessed he would go home and started out the back door. That was the last heard or seen of him until his body was found in the alley. But the peculiar circumstance of the case is that the two boarding houses are separated only a distance of 200 yards and Cavaterra's body was found about 200 yards from the friend's boarding house, and in an opposite direction from his own. Evidently Cavaterra had not gone in the direction of his own boarding house. The friend declared that Cavaterra had worn his mackinaw when leaving the house, but it was found lying about 10 feet from the body. There was a small pocket knife beside the body.

Sentimental Paradox.

The Supreme Court has handed down its expected decision regarding the constitutionality of the war time prohibition law which is supposed to session at Washington at noon today. Thus once more puts a damper on the hopes of the thirsty for a "wet" Christmas. Next Monday is the probable date for a ruling on the question but we hope the decision when it does come finds John B. for all time.

Let us hope that the walk out of the U. M. W. of A. will not take place as the meeting in Indianapolis tomorrow on the peace proposal offered by the U. S. government for the settlement of the strike is always a losing proposition for all the parties involved and the public have the right to expect some consideration at least from both sides in this calamitous situation. The miners should act at once with an investigation to determine whether it is sufficient should surely appeal to the miner and neither the operator nor miner should fear to leave the justice of their claims to the consideration of an unbiased investigation board under Federal direction.

FIRE DESTROYS VALUABLE TIPPLE

The splendid big tipple at the mines of the Pennsylvania Coal & Coke Company at Winburne was destroyed by fire on Friday morning, involving a loss of probably $7,000 or more. It is not thought the fire was of incendiary origin, but believed to have been the result of a short circuit in the light and power lines.

The company's mines at Winburne have been closed throughout the period of the strike and the disaster will seriously interfere with the operations of the company at that point when the men decide to return to work. However, the company has other operations so that production will not be halted entirely as a result of the fire.

The tipple was quite a large one and well equipped in every way for the work at the mines. The fire spread rapidly after it started and the facilities for combating it were inadequate.

CLAIM SEASON'S RECORD

Camp Kelley composed of Curwensville hunters who are located on the headwaters of Montgomery creek, claims the record for the season, alleging that they succeeded in killing seven deer in 24 hours of actual hunting. They killed their first deer at 7:30 o'clock on Monday morning and knocked down No 7 at 7:30 on Tuesday morning. This sure is some record and serves to demonstrate the fact that the "buck law" has solved the problem of increasing the number of deer in the woods.

The hunters of this camp who secured bucks were James F. Smith, Roy Strekand, Clem Rougeux, John Haupt, Jesse Irvin, Woody Kelley and James M. Thompson.

Rubber Easy to Cultivate.

After four or five years of semi-cultivation a rubber plantation requires practically no care, except to see from time to time that other trees which may have gotten a start, are cut out. The yield of rubber gum begins about the seventh year under favorable conditions, and continues thereafter indefinitely.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

All of the large mines along the river are still idle, the men refusing to go in until specific orders has been received by the local union that a satisfactory adjustment of the scale has been accepted by the national officers. Nearly all of the small banks are being operated, however, some to full capacity and others about one-half.

Curwensville business men have made arrangements for a course of four lectures to be delivered in this place for the benefit of citizens in general. The first discourse is listed to take place in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening, December 12th and will be delivered by Dr. Ebert Russell, one of the directors of the Woolman school for social and religious education at Swathmore, Pa.

The Curwensville letter man has been requested to announce that the regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Wils McNaul, south Filbert street, on Friday afternoon, December 12.

Mr. George L. Benner, an employee in the Curwensville National Bank, returned Saturday evening from a two weeks' vacation trip to his old home in Bethlehem, Pa.

The funeral of Emma Norris, the eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Norris, who died last Friday morning from pneumonia, was held yesterday afternoon from the Norris home. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Several hundred boys and girls took advantage of the skating on the old log pond near the upper tannery Saturday.

Rev. Max Lantz, of Mt. Union, who spent last week at the Kelly camp on the "barrens," hunting, remained in town over Sunday with his son, Richard Lantz.

The members of the C. H. S. school board decided to grant the pupils of the three school buildings a three weeks' vacation, the same to commence on December 15th, and extend to January 5th.

Under the supervision of Profs. Mays and Santee, the pupils of the C. H. S. are taking a very important part in the sale of Christmas Red Cross stamps.

Robert Clark is taking orders for Christmas trees. All who desire to purchase a fine tree can leave their order at the residence of Guy B. Clark.

A Christmas box was received at the home of Chief of Police Clark the other day from Earl Clark, his eldest son, who is now located at Caddo, Texas. Among other gifts was a bag containing 50 pounds of pecan nuts, something that is rarely seen as far in the north as Pennsylvania.

The C. H. S. orchestra furnished some very excellent music for the Baptist church social last Friday evening.

Jay Murphy has improved the brightness of his drug store by adding a new system of lights. He is exhibiting a fine display of Christmas candies in connection with his other goods.

Seven deer hanging out in front of the Kelly pool room Saturday, caused a flurry of people from all over town to hasten in that direction, to look them over.

Curwensville's contribution to the Jewish Relief Fund, in round numbers, amounted to $1,516.02.

Mr. and Mrs Francis Carroll, who reside in Philadelphia, are visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Reed on upper Ridge avenue. Mrs. Carrol, before her marriage, which took place last October, was Emma Reed.

Misses Mildred and Margaret Robinson, whose home is in Punxsutawney, spent the week end on the South Side, the guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Myers.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bartholemew, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. J. Kittleberger on West Main street for some weeks, has returned to her Pittsburg home.

Miss Mary Cole spent last week at Indiana, as a guest in the home of Mrs. Lee Remalie, who formerly was Miss Elva Richards, only daughter of S. J. Richards, deceased.

Sunday morning an Italian was discovered lying in the middle of the driveway near the junction of South street and South Pine street. Upon investigation it was found that the man was dead, and that his death was caused by a bullet wound on the left side of the head, back of the ear. He had been dead for some time. His coat was found near him, as was also a pen-knife, with the longest blade open. Shots were heard in this vicinity about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night by several parties, and it is generally supposed that it was at that hour he met his death. The proper authorities were notified, and after viewing the body and collecting what evidence possible, had the body removed to the Smith Undertaking rooms, where a further probe was made Sunday P. M., to ascertain the facts as to how the man came to his death. It seems as though he had no relatives in this vicinity, and was employed at the Crescent Refractories Yard above town. He was a member of the Crescent Cornet band.

CARNWATH

The gun club has gone to the mountains, they took a porker along to be sure they would have meat.

Grant Norris came over the mountain on Thanksgiving, and butchered two nice pigs for Earnest Pitchford.

Howard Witherite and family are at Bells Landing, visiting friends this week.

John Fleck, the store manager of this place, was hunting rabbits on Thanksgiving, it was not safe for him to venture to the mountain with the gun club, so the court called him to Clearfield.

The hunters here have all about succeeded in getting the limit of rabbits, John Parks included.

Mr. Long, our school teacher, will have school every day that there is coal and kindling to keep the fire burning.

To Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt was born a baby boy. Jack is more independent, because he has two coal diggers now.

D. P. Yocum is losing work, hunting for deer on the mountain.

Charley Henderson, the labor leader of this place, has not been called to Washington yet.

Evangeline Booth, the famous Commander of the Salvation Army in the United States, appears in "Fires of Faith," a superb Paramount picture of love, adventure and sacrifice in peace and war, which is being shown to large audiences at Driggs theatre this week. Miss Booth does nto appear as an actress in the development of the story but incidently as the executive head of the Salvation Army, in the performance of her usual duties. The principal roles are in the hands of Catherine alvert Eugene O'Brien, Ruby de Remer, and the support generally is excellent.

A 15c loaf for 13 cents is the Workman way of saving for you.

Springfield, Mass., was probably the first American city to choose a woman as city physician. In 1872, when twelve masculine M. D.'s were contesting for the office, friends of Dr. Sarah J. Williams offered her name as the thirteenth candidate and she proved to be the successful one.

Workman's bread saves you 2 cents on every loaf. A 15c loaf for 13c.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutarlize these irritating acids, to clean the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and maks a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

Making Maps

BY HERMAN T. LUKENS
Francis W. Parker School

To learn to use maps you must make maps. Get a large map of your home town and redraw it making every measurement half the length it is in the original. This reduces its size to one fourth. To simplify the measuring draw two straight lines at right angles, one at the left margin and one along the bottom. From these two lines measure out to any point you want to locate. It will be well to test the accuracy of your work as you proceed by measuring from point to point.

Get a large map of the United States. With scissors cut it on the state boundary lines. It is great fun to learn to recognize the different states by their shapes and sizes. Also it helps when you come to recite that geography lesson.

Get some string, some small wooden stakes, and a map of your state. In your back yard or a field stake out your state on a large scale, say an inch or a foot to a mile. Say the scale of your map is fifty miles to the inch. Thus if one boundary line of your state measures four inches on the map that means that boundary line is 200 miles long. So if you adopt the scale of one mile per inch, when you stake down your string along that boundary line it would be 200 inches or 16 feet 8 inches long. You may have some trouble laying out the curving lines but if you are careful and frequently measure between different points already laid out and compare your measurements with the distances between the same points on your map you will not go far wrong.

Ask your teacher where to get a large blank outline map of the United States. Get pictures from every state of the Union. Number them on the back, locate on the map where they come from, and write the number at that point. This will help you to get an idea of what the distant parts of the country look like.

A Cocoon Hunt

BY ADELIA BELLE BEARD

You do not carry a gun or game bag on this hunt, nor do you bother with a camera. All you need is a pair of keen eyes to find your game and a box or paper bag in which to bring home your specimens. They must not be crushed or tightly packed, therefore your pocket is not a good place for them.

The cocoons should be in the best of condition at this time of the year. You will find them in the woods, clinging to branches of shrubs in marshy places and along the roadside; plastered on board fences and sometimes in hollow logs. Even on our city trees you may come across these little brown bags that hold the small, sleeping things which in early summer, will emerge gorgeous winged creatures.

The CECROPIA MOTH—remember the name—which is one of the largest and handsomest of all our moths, uses for blankets only the silk spun from its own body. You may know the Cecropia cocoon—it is quite large—by its being lashed its whole length to whatever supports it—often to a twig of a Maple or other large shade tree—and by its outer coat which looks as if made of dry brown paper.

The cocoon of the beautiful, pale-green LUNA MOTH though incased in two or three leaves does not fasten itself, as some others do, to the twig, but when the leaves loosen and fall, it drops with them to the ground. It is almost oval in shape, about two inches long and is usually found under large trees like the oak, walnut and hickory.

The cocoon wrapped in several leaves and hanging by a few silken threads from a twig of the Willow tree, will probably be that of the splendid POLYPHEMUS MOTH (you can remember that name too) which has little window-like spots on its wings, clear and transparent as glass.

Do not pull the cocoons off their twigs, take twigs and all and put them in a vase in a safe place where they will have light and air, then early in June watch for the moths to come out. It is a wonderful sight.

HOW HE ENDED KIDNEY TROUBLE

"I had a severe attack of kidney trouble and for three weeks could not get out of doors and scarcely out of bed," writes C. E. Brewster, Village Springs, Ala. "Could not bend over at all without the most excruciating pains. I purchased a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills. Was relieved after first few doses and continued their use until completely cured. I consider Foley Kidney Pills the best kidney remedy in the world. No recurrence of my trouble."

In your hands are placed the lives of our children.

If a fire should start in any schoolhouse two things may happen.

The building may be burned to the ground, and you know the building itself and its equipment could not be replaced today at many times the price it cost.

But that is unimportant compared to the possibility of a panic and loss of life among the children.

Every school building should be equipped with Pyrene Fire Extinguishers, and the use of Pyrene Fire Extinguishers should be taught in every school fire drill.

A Pyrene Fire Extinguisher will put out any small fire before it can gain headway. It is so light and simple that any woman or young child can use it. With a Pyrene handy fire can be put out before there is a chance for a panic.

Let us show you how many Pyrene Fire Extinguishers should be in each schoolhouse in this district.

Pyrene should be in every home also.

IN A JIFFY, THIS SULPHUR SOOTHES UGLY, ITCHING SKIN

For itching, burning or unsightly skin eruptions, rash or pimples on face, neck or body, Mentho-Sulphur brings quickest relief. You do not have to wait to get relief from torture or embarassment, improvement quickly shows, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment you apply this special sulphur preparation to an itching, burning, broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins. Eczema is dried right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Only those who have had skin troubles can know the delight this cooling, antiseptic sulphur brings. It is a simple, inexpensive treatment. No tiresome, costly massages, baths or steaming.

Any good druggist can supply you with about two ounces of Mentho-Sulphur for a few cents. Use it like a cold cream.

Progress or Retrogress.

It is often said that "What is good enough for the father is good enough for the son." The statement is incorrect, proclaims a writer. It leaves the wheel on a slope where it cannot stand. The instant it ceases to ascend it begins to slide down. As with the individual, so with communities and nations—where progression pauses, retrogression begins.
